

Exploring the Economic Contributions of People 50 and Over and the
Business Case and Innovative Best Practices for Supporting Healthy Longevity
Thursday, November 11 | 4:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Panelist Biographies

---

Erwin J. Tan, MD - Moderator

Director of Thought Leadership Health
AARP

Erwin J. Tan MD is the Director of Thought Leadership Health at AARP and a physician with fellowship training in geriatric medicine and integrative medicine. He is a nationally recognized thought leader on healthy longevity, volunteering and the health effects of perceptions on aging. Erwin previously served as the Director of Senior Corps at the Corporation for National and Community Service and as faculty at the Johns Hopkins School of Medicine. From 2003-2004, Erwin was a White House Fellow serving as a Special Assistant to the Secretary of Veterans Affairs.

Matt Terry

Senior Analyst, Policy & Insights Team
Economist Impact

Matt Terry is a senior analyst on the Policy & Insights team at Economist Impact. He specializes in developing custom scenarios, modeling and forecasting economic impact, and designing policy assessment frameworks. Matt has recently led research initiatives across programs such as the Longevity Economy® Outlook, the Infrascope index for infrastructure PPPs, and custom forecasting scenarios related to COVID-19. He holds a Master's degree in Economic Policy from Columbia University's School of International and Public Affairs, with a focus in quantitative methods.

Yuxin Lin

Senior Manager, Policy & Insights Team
Economist Impact

Yuxin Lin is a senior manager on the Policy & Insights team at Economist Impact. She specializes in demographics and workforce, international trade and finance, and megatrends. Yuxin leads research and analysis projects across a range of sectors including NGOs, financial services, and technology. Most recently, she led the Driving Innovation in Healthcare and Wellness research project under the Aging Readiness and Competitiveness initiative (ARC 3.0) and advised on the Longevity Economy® Outlook program.

Peter Rundlet

Vice President
AARP International

Peter Rundlet is Vice President of AARP International. He develops and executes AARP's international strategy to position AARP as the global thought leader on aging. Before joining AARP, Rundlet served as the Director of International Strategy for the Obama Foundation and, before that, as Deputy Staff Secretary for President Obama. He was also the Vice President of International Policy at the Center for American Progress, and he served as Counsel for the 9/11 Commission, as Associate Counsel to President Clinton, and as Assistant Counsel for the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund. He started his career as a Peace Corps Volunteer in Honduras.

Exploring the Economic Contributions of People 50 and Over
and the
Business Case and Innovative Best Practices for Supporting Healthy Longevity
Thursday, November 11, 2021 | 4:00 pm to 5:00 pm

References and Resources

---

Accius, Jean, and Joo Yeoun Suh. The Longevity Economy Outlook: How People Ages 50 and Older Are Fueling Economic Growth, Stimulating Jobs, and Creating Opportunities for All. Washington, DC: AARP Thought Leadership, December 2019.
<https://doi.org/10.26419/int.00042.001>

Accius, Jean, and Joo Yeoun Suh. The Economic Impact of Age Discrimination: How Discriminating Against Older Workers Could Cost the U.S. Economy $850 Billion. Washington, DC: AARP Thought Leadership, January 2020. <https://doi.org/10.26419/int.00042.003>

Accius, Jean, and Joo Yeoun Suh. The Economic Impact of Supporting Working Family Caregivers. Washington, DC: AARP Thought Leadership, March 2021.
<https://doi.org/10.26419/int.00042.006>

Innovative and Pioneering Practices for Supporting a Healthy Aging Population Worldwide
Aging Readiness & Competitiveness (ARC) 3.0
<https://www.aarpinternational.org/arc3>

How Countries Around the World Are Helping People Live Better, Longer
The aging population is set to take off in coming decades. It's time to get ready <https://www.aarp.org/health/healthy-living/info-2021/people-living-longer.html>